The Practitioner's Handbook for the Management of Sexually Transmitted Diseases, 3rd Edition

by Connie L. Celum, MD, MPH, Jeanne Marrazzo, MD, MPH, Negusse Ocbamichael, PA-C, Anne Meegan and Walter E. Stamm, MD of the University of Washington and the Seattle STD/HIV Prevention Training Center.

The Practitioner's Handbook is designed to assist practitioners in primary health care, family medicine, emergency medicine and other specialties in the optimal management of patients with sexually transmitted diseases (STD) and their partners. The Web site provides access to The Practitioner's Handbook in downloadable PDF format. Separate PDF documents are available for each section of the book, organized by disease syndrome, and illustrated with clinical and laboratory images, diagrams and management algorithms.

The Seattle STD/HIV Prevention Training Center (PTC) is one of ten regional training sites funded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Located at the University of Washington since 1979, the Seattle PTC leads the way in providing world class training to health care providers in the Pacific Northwest on the prevention, diagnosis, management and treatment of sexually transmitted disease.
